Gov. Warmouth's letter to the President has completely endicated the good feeling towards him on the part of the conservatives which his speech to the crowd on Canal street created.

In the Senate to-day, Senator Jewell offered a resolution that a committee of three be appointed to wait on Gov. Warmouth and ascertain from him the time and place of the 150 murders which he says have been committed during the last six weeks; and also to obtain the letter of District Atterney Hudspeth aliaded to, which charges the indiscriminate murder of men, women, and children in the Righth Jadielai District. Mr. Jewell followed his resolution with an intensely bitter speech upon the action of the Governor, in the course of which he stated that fifty-dive hundred stand of arms were known to be in the building opposite the State House, and occupied as the headquarters of the Republican party. Mr. Jewell also stated that as no law of Louisiana provided for a Governor's staff, with military rooks, the Lieutenant-Colonel of his staff as Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, there being as yet no militia organization. Gov. Warmouth in his enumeration of the secret military, but ostensibly political associations, neglected to mention the Loyal League and Grand Army of the Republic, of which latter he is the head in this State. Of the same organization the Republic, in its issue of July 2d uit, and it numbered ten thousand trained solide: in this city and vicinity and that on that date but half as hour's warning was needed to put three thousand of those men in Dryades street (the street in which the State House is located) ready for service. Mr. Jewell's resolution was referred to the joint Committee on the Condition of Civil Aflairs.

Hon. Christopher Mangan. The viands were of the most approved kind, and were bountifully distributed. After the dimer the Embassy paid a visit of inspection to the engine house and headquarters of the Auburn Waterworks Company. Upon arriving there the two Tejen became very much interested in the working of the ponderous machinery, by which the water is forced through the mains and supply pipes, which traverse every part of the city. Chih Tejen, especially, was quite diligent in his inspection of the wheels and the force pumps, the register, pulles, lever, pipes, etc., etc.

Mr. Brown, one of the accomplished secretaries, explained portions of the work.

During their stay at the engine-house a column of water was thrown into the air perpendicularly about one hundred and fifty feet, which, to the Embassy, seemed to be considerable of a feat.

After the tour of the waterworks the party return d to Secretary Seward's, paying Mr. Miles Verry a complimentary call on their way. Overwarked Clerks.

Overworked Clerks.

To the Estitor of The Sum.

Sin: It has often been a matter of astonishment to me that, while you so stremuously and justly advected the cause of the bricklayers, masons, and others in their landable desire to shorten the day's labor from ten to cich hours, you never have a word to say in behalf of the poorly pail and harder worked cherks in the retail stores in dise sity. I need not tell you that a large majority of them have to be in the stores from seven in the morning until nine in the evening, and very many much longer.

Now, sir, which are the hardest worked, the joiner, or the clerks? The former can only the fresh air psid and hard-worked as the clerks in retail stores, if, therefore, you would now and then aid them in endeavoring to get their hours of labor shortened by the stores being closed in winter at six and seven in summer, and three o'clock on Saturdays, what a boon would be conferred upon a ha covorked and struggling class of the community. It is almost an impossibility for a clerk to save money out of his salary, as from his position he is o'dilgred to dress well, and after paying his enormous rent he has little to spare for a rainy day. Do, therefore, Mr. Editor, take up their cause by bringing it before the public in your widely circulated and excellent journal, and you will have the thanks of a large number of clerks.

Democratic Meeting in Jersey City.
A large Democratic meeting was held last vening at the Catholic Institute, Jersey City, to ratiy the recent Tammany Hall nominations, as well as re nomination of Mr. Theo, F. Randolph as Governor of the State of New Jersey. Right over the latform a large national banner was suspended, and froat was a scroll, containing the words, "The constitution." To the right hung a Democratic ampiagn chart, containing a representation of Seynour and Blair, and to the left was a transparency. mour and Blair, and to the left was a transparency, on which were printed the words "Second Ward Democratic Jackson Club. The San shall Never Set pon the Workingman's Hights. Democracy." On another transparency, underneath, were the words, "Sixth Ward Seymour and Blair Democratic Club." Outside the building a cannon sent forth its minde thander, and a large open-air meeting was made merry by the music of the bar-pipes in the interim between species. Inside, the excelent band of the Twenty-third Reatment, New York, under the command of M. M. Papst, played several national and other airs during the evening.

Twenty-third Realment, New York, under the command of M. M. Papst, played several national and other ares during the evening.

Shortly after 8 P. M., Mayor O'Neill was unanimously moved to the chair. He brindy explained the object of the meeting, and was warmly applanded in the course of his remarks.

A list of officers were then appointed, after which the Mayor introduced to the andience the Governor elect of New Jersey, Theo. F. Randolph.

Mr. Ranleiph then steeped forward, and was entimated the Mayor introduced to the andience the Governor elect of New Jersey, Theo. F. Randolph.

Mr. Charmanan, Frillow Civizens, and Frillow Townsakin: A leeing of thanks towards you, my intends, comes spontaneously from me. (Cheers.) I am not here to-night for any other purpose than to give you that gratifude which my heart feels, and which my lips think fit. I shall be succeeded by learned and cloquent gentlearen, who will give to you words of wisdom and warning; and never in the country's history, more than at present, has there been a greater occasion for sober thought, because had men are at the helm. Appropriate resolutions were then proposed and unanimously adopted.

Mr. Glichrist next addressed the meeting. He first alluded to the question of the right of sufrage, and stignatized as false the accusation made by parties that the Democrats denied the right of life and property to any man. The Democrats did not deny them tights, but would not permit them to have a governing power, on the same principle that though a woman, idiot, or lunate may be born free, yet that was no reason why intelligent people should be governed by women, idiots, or lunatics. [Laughter and cheers.] He charged the Republican party with having corruptly and recklessly and tyrannically used their efforts towards the destruction of life, liberty, and property, and asserted that State towerments were the best means of protecting them. There were numerous calls for Mr. Wortendyke, and in response thereto that gentleman stepped forward and was loudly applauded. He referred to the infraction of the constitutional rights of the people by the Republican party had done to ask their suffrage and demand their assistance. Yes, they had done something: they had done more to weigh down the American people in their weiva rears of power than all the parties ever in office. It was born if revolution, lived and fatten on that runs of the republic. He referred to the conciliatory polley as the one which should animate every person; and in illustration of this, mentioned instances which had occurred in ancient and modern times by which rowers who had acted tyranically had been finally overcome by the once oppressed that the republican party had done times by which rowers who had acted tyranically had been finally overcome by the once oppressed
